

THE INSIGHT STAGE: The one-day INSIGHT workshops are the beginning of the TICE journey for all students and their schools. Workshops take place in schools in January and introduce students to the mentor from their chosen creative, design and digital industry.

OUR MENTORS

Each TICE Mentor holds DBS clearance and is a creative professional working in industry. Mentors design each Insight workshop to be engaging, informative and interactive - and update them each year to represent developing industry trends.

“ This January I’ve had the pleasure of working for @ticeuk doing animation Insight Stage #workshops at three local schools. It was the first time #animation has been added to the subject areas TICE offers, and it was great to see how much the students enjoyed learning more about this industry. We got to grips with a few animation skills including #characterdesign and #walkcycles. Thank you @jen.k.barrett for the opportunity to be part of the programme! ”

Chloe Rodham, Animation Mentor, 2018

ABOUT THE WORKSHOPS

Insight days explore the students’ chosen creative area from an industry perspective, giving students a broad insight, which includes the scope of the creative sector, potential career progression, and fundamental creative business knowledge.

“ I learnt how to create code in two different ways in scratch and in HTML...I found the tasks throughout the day really interesting and fun because I got to do it all with my friends and the mentor was really nice. ”

L. Draper, George Stephenson High School,
TICE programme student 2017
